

Nora was a kind and curious girl who always had a smile on her face. One day, she heard her teacher talk about the story of Jesus and how He showed love and kindness to everyone. Nora was intrigued and wanted to learn more about this special person.

She asked her parents about Jesus, and they told her that He was a teacher who preached about love and forgiveness. Nora was inspired by His teachings and decided to be kind to everyone she met. She helped a friend who was feeling sad and shared her toys with a classmate who had none.

Nora's acts of kindness did not go unnoticed, and soon, her classmates started to follow her example. They all learned that being like Jesus meant showing love and compassion to others. Nora was happy to see the positive effect she had on her friends and was grateful for the lesson she learned about the importance of kindness.

So, the next time you see someone in need, remember Nora's story and the lesson she taught about the power of kindness. Like Jesus, we can all make the world a better place by spreading love and compassion to those around us.
